

2008 JCHS Summer Camps

* Let Johnson County Historical Society be your guide to summer fun in 2008! JCHS offers 3 distinct camps deeply rooted in the cultural heritage of Johnson County. They are focused on having fun and learning. Both child and the parent are exploring the cultural heritage and history of the Johnson County Community that they live in. Here are some of the things that past campers and their parents had to say about our camps:

"All the camps were really fun. You meet a lot of new friends and the counselors are really nice. You never get left out because they care about everyone. I liked learning about games from the olden days. Everything I learned was very interesting and stuff I wouldn't learn about in class at school."

"Both of my children benefited from attending a variety of JCHS summer camps. They were excited to return every day and talked a lot about what they learned. I specifically remember that after my son learned about grinding corn, he insisted that I make cornbread at home. Then he told me about how corn was ground with a millstone. At JCHS Summer Camps learning is fun. My children learned about many aspects of early Iowa life and culture. As a mother, I really appreciate that!"

Little School on the Prairie

Campers are invited to wear period clothing as they experience going to a one-room school. Hands-on activities will include 1876 school lessons, games, music, snacks, crafts & storytelling all in the setting of a real country school (The Building is air conditioned).

Little House on the Prairie

Campers will explore life on a pioneer homestead like that of the Ingalls family. They will learn with hands-on activities centered on chores, tools, crafts, foods, music & animals of the pioneers.

JCHS Museum Day Camps

Back by popular demand for summer 2008! JCHS Museum Day Camps will again be held at our museum facility at 860 Quarry Rd. across from the Marriott Hotel and Convention Center in Coralville. This camp will feature an eclectic group of day camps. Each day will be a different topic: Native Americans, Archaeology, Puppetry and Music, Prairie Ecosystems, and Plains, Trains, and Automobiles. *See Registration form for topics and days.
